Fate Of Germany May Be Decided In Holland Battle

Reinforcements In Unbroken Stream Follow Allied Air Landings In Holland

DETAILS MEAGRE UP TO PRESENT

By J. C. OESTREICHER

The fate of Germany was being decided in the flooded lowlands of southern Holland today.

In an unbroken stream, reinforcements of troops, guns, tanks and every other weapon of modern warfare went into the Rhine river delta area by transport and glider to swell out the air-borne army some 15,000 strong which landed on Dutch soil

Thus it was impossible to say just how far the troops have progressed or whether they have been able to move fast and hard enough to accomplish the principal objective of the venture—the flanking of the Siegfried line.

"Going Well"

Gen. Eisenhower's communique merely said that the undertaking was "going well." One brief battlefront dispatch that filtered through cidedly encouraging ring. Bad News For Mr. Big

Most people in the world see complete collapse of German arms crucial the job of registration is. s mevitable but Hitler even now will not see it because he dare not. They know that the election may former pals do. According to the Swiss Journal de the incontrovertible bad news has been told to Hitler by a group that seems not to have occurred to an industrialists using the Nazi general staff as their mouth- complacent politicians in Washing-

Thus two elements of German gangsterism are alleged to have got their nerve up to tell Mr. Big that the army will be unable to continue fighting more than another eight weeks. The Swiss newspaper October 10 or earlier. For example, reports from inside Germany to the effect that Field Marshal in Philadelphia the deadline is Walter von Model, Nazi commander of the Western Front, and Col. Gen. Sound Criticism Of 4-to-3 Decisions

The American Bar Association has done the country a good turn by adopting a resolution recommending that the United States Supreme Court never decide a constitutional question unless a majority of the entire court concurs.

Voter Registration Is Crucial Matter

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 .- One regional political action committee recently sent out a memorandum to city and country PACS in its jurisdiction which said:

"Our national PAC office is no longer satisfied with glittering generalities, and this is as it should be. What is required now is facts about action and real accomplishment in terms of the program." Although the national PAC office here, on the fifiteenth floor of a business building in mid-Manhattan, has sent out imposing questionnaires to even the smallest local units, those facts are still hard to come by. No one seems to be sure whether the job of registering the voters for the November election is eing done or not.

For the gun decks of our Navy and Merchant Marine . . . for our Armies in the field, Bofors 40-mm. Anti-Aircraft Guns are being built in quantities and at lower cost made possible only through "Engineered Production.

First American manufacturers to build Bofors guns, we changed the design on some parts, changed material on others and finished all with such accuracy that assembly time was reduced from 450 hours of hand fitting to 10 hours of volume production assembly.

Before the war, rapid-firing guns of this type were hand-built ... each part laboriously fitted to others. When the need arose, Chrysler Corporation was given the task of producing them by Today, these are better weapons than were originally built better because "Engineered Production" has accomplished complete interchangeability of parts. This permits quick replacement when necessary right in the field.

HE MERITS of "Engineered Production." as pioneered and practiced by Chrysler Corporation in its peacetime manufacture of fine cars and trucks, were never more clearly proved than through the delivery of many thousands of Bofors Anti-Aircraft Guns . . . at substantial money savings to taxpayers, and at great savings in time to our Armed Forces.

Janice Graham Goes On Stand

Girl Accused Of Mercer Farm Murders Takes Witness Stand Today

MERCER. Pa., Sept. 18.-(INS)-With the calm which has marked her every court appearance, pretty Janice Graham took the stand today and told in direct testimony her own version of the love and sudden death which cost three lives on the

The 21-year-old, unemotional domestic began her recital directly after Dr. D. E. Vogan of Mercer testified that X-ray pictures he took of Mrs. Helen Wilson's neck following her death showed that the second, third and fourth vertebrae on the right side were broken. Cause Of Death

These could have been broken, he said, either by a sudden jerk or a steady pull on a rope wound

After sitting calmly in the Mercer county courtroom for a week and repeatedly hearing herself branded as a murderess, the 21year-old domestic was finally given an opportunity to tell her own version of the love and sudden death which cost the lives of Mrs. Helen Wilson, the wealthy dairyman's wife; Mrs. Katherine Wilson, the farmer's mother, and Robert Mc-Kay, the hired hand.

T. A. Sampson, chief defense counsel for the girl, described her as "weak and unwise, but not a murderess," In his opening address to the five woman-seven man jury, Sampson indicated the girl would tell the same story she told at her first trial six months ago, when she was charged with being an accessory after the fact.

Says Morell Guilty

At that time she said it was Morell who committed the violent crimes when Mrs. Helen Wilson discovered him in the barn with trial will take place tonight outside the courtroom which has been packed continuously with thrill-

In the quiet of a Youngstown, O., hospital, Howard C. Stamp, a bakery driver, will make a deposition in which, the defense claims, he will say that "shortly after 11 o'clock on the day of the murders, he saw Helen Wilson alive and Morell was there. He talked to both

Morell's story, which the defense unsuccessfully attacked again and again, was that all three victims were dead or dying when he arrived at the farm house "shortly after 11

The 21-year-old orphan boy was convicted of voluntary manslaughter in the death of Mrs. Helen Wilson. Up until his trial in December, he had taken the entire blame

He changed his story, he said later, when he "discovered what kind of a girl Janice really was."

Waste Paper On Job At Gloucester

U. S. Coast Guardsmen help unload wounded invaders at the ramp of a Coast Guard manned LST (Landing Ship, Tanks) beached at Cape Gloucester, New Britain. Mechanized, medical and sustaining supplies are already loaded on shore. To give emergency treatment, the LST's officers' wardroom was converted into a make-shift hospital. Eighty-one tons of supplies, mostly wrapped in PAPER, are required every month to maintain each fighting man overseas. It's a gigantic task that needs the help of every American. Save all the waste paper you can! Our Invading Troops need your support.

By JANE COCHRAN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The lady of the 17the century had it all over her modern-day descendant when it comes to glamour and attractiveness in clothes but today's woman puts comfort and convenience first and has no intention of changing.

That's the opinion of blonde, sparkling movie star Joan Fontaine who's had a recent fling at both In New York attending the fall fashion collection presentations, she's just completed a picture in which she wore the romantically beuatiful gowns of a lady of the 17th century.

Make More Sense Now

"Present day clothes make much more sense but I don't think they're nearly as attractive," she said. "One of the gowns I wore in 'Frenchman's Creek' weighed 35 pounds but it was beautiful!"

Women, she believes lost a lot of feminity and attractiveness when they took to the shorter skirt, but she doesn't believe anything could talk them into going back to the

"Getting in and out of cabs, busses and subways would be impossible," she said, "We dress now to fit our mode of life. BRITISH LOUNGE MODEL

ADDS inches SUBTRACTS bulk

Here is a bit of simple arithmetic that any man can do . . . that will do any man good. It is all accomplished through the famous British Lounge Model.

This model seems to add inches to your height and fullness to your chest. And it seems to subtract inches from your hips and waist. And it does all this effortlessly and in perfect taste.

So if your figure isn't perfect—and few are-let a British Lounge Model solve the problem for you.

President Reveals His Ancestors Came From Holland As Troops March In

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(INS) President Roosevelt, whose ancestors came from Holland, expressed himself with emotion today on the air borne invasion to liberate that

"The armies of liberation," he said, "are flowing across the borders of Holland. A gallant queen is JOE PALOOKA returning to her gallant people. The Netherlands again stands on the threshold of her ancient liberties.

"For four long years the Netherlands has suffered under the heel! of German oppression. For four long years its liberties have been crushed, its homes destroyed, its people enslaved. But the spark of freedom could never be extinguished. It has always glowed in the hearts of the Netherlands people. It now emerges as an avenging
